

Police Department - 30 Unique FAQs (Sample Contacts)

Note: Toll-free numbers and emails shown are SAMPLE placeholders. Replace with official state police helplines and emails before use.

Q1. How to file a First Information Report (FIR)

The process for how to file a first information report (fir) begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-101 (sample)
police.service1@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q2. How to file an online complaint with the police

The process for how to file an online complaint with the police begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-102 (sample)
police.service2@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q3. How to request a character certificate

The process for how to request a character certificate begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-103 (sample)
police.service3@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q4. How to apply for a police clearance certificate for passport

The process for how to apply for a police clearance certificate for passport begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-104 (sample)
police.service4@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q5. How to report cybercrime incidents

The process for how to report cybercrime incidents begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-105 (sample)
police.service5@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q6. How to track status of a filed FIR

The process for how to track status of a filed fir begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-106 (sample)
police.service6@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q7. How to apply for tenant verification

The process for how to apply for tenant verification begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-107 (sample)
police.service7@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q8. How to apply for domestic help verification

The process for how to apply for domestic help verification begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-108 (sample)
police.service8@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q9. How to report lost mobile phone

The process for how to report lost mobile phone begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number.

The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-109 (sample)

police.service9@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q10. How to get a no-objection certificate (NOC) from police

The process for how to get a no-objection certificate (noc) from police begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-110 (sample)

police.service10@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q11. How to apply for arms license verification

The process for how to apply for arms license verification begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-111 (sample)

police.service11@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q12. How to report missing person

The process for how to report missing person begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-112 (sample)

police.service12@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q13. How to get permission for a public event or rally

The process for how to get permission for a public event or rally begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-113 (sample)

police.service13@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q14. How to apply for vehicle verification certificate

The process for how to apply for vehicle verification certificate begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-114 (sample)

police.service14@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q15. How to request police protection for individuals or property

The process for how to request police protection for individuals or property begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-115 (sample)

police.service15@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q16. How to report harassment or stalking

The process for how to report harassment or stalking begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-116 (sample)

police.service16@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q17. How to apply for passport verification

The process for how to apply for passport verification begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-117 (sample)

police.service17@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q18. How to lodge traffic complaints

The process for how to lodge traffic complaints begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number.

The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-118 (sample)

police.service18@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q19. How to pay challans issued by traffic police

The process for how to pay challans issued by traffic police begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-119 (sample)

police.service19@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q20. How to file complaint for stolen vehicle

The process for how to file complaint for stolen vehicle begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-120 (sample)

police.service20@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q21. How to register complaint about loudspeakers or noise pollution

The process for how to register complaint about loudspeakers or noise pollution begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-121 (sample)

police.service21@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q22. How to apply for police escort service

The process for how to apply for police escort service begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-122 (sample)

police.service22@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q23. How to request verification for employment abroad

The process for how to request verification for employment abroad begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-123 (sample)
police.service23@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q24. How to apply for arms license renewal verification

The process for how to apply for arms license renewal verification begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-124 (sample)
police.service24@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q25. How to file a complaint for financial fraud

The process for how to file a complaint for financial fraud begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-125 (sample)
police.service25@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q26. How to request CCTV footage from police

The process for how to request cctv footage from police begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-126 (sample)
police.service26@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q27. How to apply for permission to organize religious procession

The process for how to apply for permission to organize religious procession begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-127 (sample)

police.service27@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q28. How to report child abuse or domestic violence

The process for how to report child abuse or domestic violence begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-128 (sample)

police.service28@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q29. How to apply for NOC for foreigners staying in hotels

The process for how to apply for noc for foreigners staying in hotels begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-129 (sample)

police.service29@statepolice.gov.in (sample)

Q30. How to request verification of documents for visa purposes

The process for how to request verification of documents for visa purposes begins with visiting the official state police portal or the nearest police station. The citizen must fill out the prescribed form with personal details, identity proof, and all relevant documents. After submission, the police department registers the request and issues an acknowledgment receipt with a reference number. The status can be tracked online or by contacting the designated helpline, and final confirmation is provided once the request is completed.

Toll-free: 1800-200-130 (sample)

police.service30@statepolice.gov.in (sample)